FALL WHEAT.

On August the 19th of last year, R. Sheppard, a farmer located about two miles south of Strathcona, sowed some fall wheat of the hard variety produced from the Downing Milling Company.
In the spring Mr. Sheppard was so much disappointed with the appearance of his field and being satisfied in his own mind that the attempt to raise fall wheat was a failure, on the 20th of April he harrowed the land and sowed flax. To his great surprise, when growth commenced, he found an equal showing of both wheat and flax, and each of excellent quality.

Samples of both were cut on the 7th inst. and sent to the Strathcona fair. Mr. Sheppard appears to have been unfortunate with regard to his experiments for, as soon as this patch of wheat looked promising, a bunch of cattle broke in and trampled it well down. In spite of these drawbacks the wheat now stands breast high, and with ordinary conditions, will be ready to cut in two weeks. By appearances the field will be profitable in both wheat and flax.

The sample of flax exhibited was recommended by the judges for first prize.
Mr. Sheppard gave the above information for the benefit of his brother farmers and urges them not to be discouraged by an apparent lack of growth in the early spring. He also advises seeding not later than 1st Aug.

THE TRAIN WRECK.

Travelers from the south report that the train wreck of Thursday last included two cars, not five as was reported. Two of the ten were not so badly damaged as to prevent their being taken back to Red Deer. Some of the cars, however, were shattered to splinters. One car of immigrants effects was completely splintered and a horse which it contained was killed by splinter being driven through its body. A boy who was in the car was unhurt. It is said that most of the cars contained immigrants effects. The accident was not caused by any fault in the track, but by something going wrong with the running gear of one of the cars.

A SERIOUS LOSS.

The first year after his arrival in Canada, he took the first prize at the Toronto industrial exhibition and first at the Toronto spring stallion show, and was mentioned by the judges as being the finest colt of his class in Canada. The death of this horse is a great loss to the district as well as to his enterprising owner.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, AUGUST 11, 1902

THE WOOD BUFFALO.

Probably the most interesting animal on the American continent is or was the buffalo or bison, both because of the vastness of its numbers, the wideness of its range, its utility to savage and civilized man, and its rapid disappearance. The buffalo ranged over the whole of the great plains east of the Rocky Mountains from the Gulf of Mexico to Great Slave lake. Up to 1880 they were counted in millions and in 1885 they had become practically extinct. Indeed in all the vast region from the Saskatchewan river to the Gulf there is not to-day a living buffalo except in captivity. It has been generally taken for granted that the range of the buffalo was bounded on the north by the wooded region lying north of the Saskatchewan river, and that when they were cleared from the great plains no more remained. This is a mistake and it is a peculiar fact that the only place where wild buffalo still remain is in a region which was supposed to be far beyond their utmost range and in a latitude in which it was not supposed that they could exist. Buffalo formerly existed on Peace river in large numbers, as their paths to water show and as history relates, but not within the past fifty years. It seems strange that buffalo should have survived far north of Peace river, possibly a hundred years after they last were seen in that favored region. But strange or not the fact is that there still remain bands of buffalo, aggregating from 200 to 300 head, in the country about Salt river and west of the Great Slave river in latitude 60.

The Canadian government being aware of the existence of these bands some years ago passed a law to prevent their being killed for a term of years. At the expiry of the term the prohibition was renewed and is still in force. Joseph Beaulieu, a leading man amongst the native people of the north, and a life long resident of the country adjacent to the buffalo range, is now in Edmonton, having come south chiefly to lay the facts of the case regarding the buffalo and the Indians respectively before the authorities. Mr. Beaulieu informed the Bulletin that the present range of the buffalo is the region lying about the upper waters of the Salt river, and west of Fort Smith on Great Slave river. He describes the country as chiefly wooded, but with some prairie. The woods vary greatly in size and character. In some places the woods are thick, but the greater part is small and light. There are intervals of prairie up to five miles or more in extent and near the Salt river still larger stretches of flat open grass land. The buffalo range in small bands of twenty or thirty, and graze on the prairie, amongst the small woods, in the thick woods, or on the salt plains, as whim or the season directs. In the summer they sometimes go into the thick woods to escape the bull dog flies, and in very stormy weather in winter they seek the same shelter. Possibly it is the variety of conditions of food and shelter which they find in the Salt river country that has preserved them so long. Of course they frequent the salt springs very greatly, especially in the early spring. Although the winter is severely cold they do not suffer from it, and are generally as fat or fatter in winter than in summer, as they are not bothered by the flies then. The snow seldom falls more than eighteen inches deep, it is never more than very slightly crusty, and the buffalo have no difficulty in moving through the loose snow to the abundant grass. The Indians of that country have no horses, therefore they only hunt the buffalo on foot, much as they do moose. Mr. Beaulieu has hunted them frequently in his younger days when the bands were more numerous than at present. Owing to the habits of the buffalo, the nature of the country, and the lack of improved weapons in the hands of the Indians there was never such wholesale slaughter as that which exterminated the buffalo of the Great Plains. Of recent years, before the law prohibiting their killing was passed the Indians killed probably twenty or thirty in a season. Now they do not kill any, but notwithstanding the herds are diminishing from the ravages of wolves. The big timber wolves follow the buffalo all winter long on the look out for stray animals. Of course they do not attack the band, but an animal which is singled from the band cannot defend itself. Mr. Beaulieu has seen twenty wolves in a pack. He has seen remains of several carcasses of full grown buffalo which have been killed by wolves and the Indians frequently report other instances. But the greatest loss of buffalo occurs during the summer. The calves are dropped in spring, and are quite numerous in the herds in early summer, but by fall scarcely a young animal is seen. This means that the wolves are killing off the young ones, and that there is no increase. In such cases there is no doubt that in a very few years even if the Indians do not kill one, the herds will become extinct. The Indians complain of this. They think that as the herds are being destroyed by the wolves they might as well be allowed the benefit. It certainly seems hard that the Indians should be protected from the wolves, and for the benefit of the wolves, and it would appear that if the buffalo are to be effectively protected some means will have to be taken to get rid of the wolves. A good bounty on wolves in that locality is as necessary to the preservation of the buffalo as the prohibition of killing by the Indians.

NORTHWEST CROP REPORT

The first Northwest government crop bulletin is to hand bearing date July 20th. The bulletin divides the Territories into districts which are numbered. District No. 12, includes Edmonton, Strathcona, and Wetaskiwin local electoral districts and includes the country adjacent to the line of the Calgary & Edmonton railway from Wetaskiwin north, and the settlements along the Saskatchewan valley, also a large tract of unsettled territory. The crop for this season is estimated at: Wheat, 26,891 acres, oats 85,329 acres and barley 10,890 acres. This is an increase of 2,000 acres each in wheat and barley over last year's estimate, and 20,000 acres increase in oats. The total crop area is estimated as being distributed as follows: Breaking 30 per cent., backsetting 6 per cent., stubble 5 per cent., fall plowing 20 per cent., fall plowing 2 per cent., spring plowing 37 per cent. The comparison with the crop condition at the same period last year places it at a small percentage of disadvantage. From April of this season showed 2 degrees less warmth and 3.1-2 inches more rain fall than the same period last year. The mean temperature for June was lower than that of May by 2.13 degrees and the rain fall for June was 6.58 inches less than for May. The report remarks: "The crop is in the leading one in this district and there is a general steady increase in the area devoted to it owing largely to good prices realized last year. There is a small increase in barley which is due to this cereal being more extensively grown for pig feed. The crops are reported as doing well since warm weather started but are eight to ten days late owing to unfavorable conditions during seeding and subsequently."

The general tenor of the report would seem to indicate that throughout the Territories the cold wet weather of June had had a retarding and injurious influence on the crop prospects. But there was no condition which would prevent a first class return in case of continued favorable weather such as has been recently.

Experimenting for Swamp Fever.
Winnipeg Telegram: Swamp fever, the dread disease which has carried off so many horses in Manitoba is one of the chief subjects which at present is under the investigation of Dr. Gordon Bell, provincial bacteriologist.

This mysterious disease, which has no counterpart, has destroyed thousands of animals throughout Manitoba and the Territories. When it first came under investigation it was thought to be of the same nature as "Surra," which is the most serious horse disease of India, but careful investigation has shown that though the symptoms are similar the action is of a different nature.

Experiments Commence.
Some time ago prominent Manitoba veterinarians started an investigation of the disease, but were hampered by lack of funds. Animals in the various stages of the disease were secured and its progress carefully noted in each case. Unfortunately at the time when such was most needed it was not forthcoming and the tests had to be dropped temporarily.

Last year a small grant was obtained from the provincial government and on the representation of Dr. Ruthven, of Portage la Prairie, a grant was obtained from the Dominion government and with this assistance the work is progressing nicely.

Dr. Bell, at present has two horses in his charge, one a chronic case and the other an acute one.

The temperature of these animals is noted carefully each day, and frequent tests made as to the condition of their blood. Medical experiments are being carried out with the chronic case, and a very satisfactory improvement has been noted. Tonics and internal antiseptics are being used, but the experiments have not yet reached a stage which permit of the issuing of an authoritative statement of a sure remedy. All styles of medical treatment have been tried, and this is the first case in which definite results have been obtained.

Treatment of Acute Case.

The acute case is in the last stage, and death is only a matter of a few days. When this occurs cultures will be made from the blood and different organs of the animal to see if some definite bacillus can be isolated which will account for the disease. When this is obtained, healthy animals will be inoculated in various ways to see in what manner the disease is transferred from one animal to another.

It has been found that the disease is not infectious, for healthy and sick animals have been kept in the same stable for some time, the healthy animals not contracting the disease.

When the bacillus has been isolated an examination will be conducted, of the feed, water, and other agencies which might carry the germ.

Theory of Disease.

The theory so far is that the disease originates either in the food or the drinking water, which are allowed to graze in the low lying lands. It may either come from the hay organisms contained in the hay or the water in these low lying sections, or from some insect life.

Northern Minnesota is affected to some extent, but the disease is generally confined to Manitoba, and the Territories, the areas most largely affected being the country lying in the angle between the C. P. R. main line and its northwestern branch, all along the Assiniboine river and part of the Red River valley, the whole of the watershed of the Stinking river, very nearly the whole of the southwestern district of Manitoba, and it extends as far north as the Dauphin district and west of Edmonton. All slough lands are affected. It seems to be worse in the dry season when the animals feed in these bottom lands for during these times the number of animals afflicted increases. Very few of the horses recover, and when they do they are never in as good condition as before, no matter what is done in the way of feed.

Symptoms of Trouble.

The symptoms of the disease are characteristic and easily noted. Beginning with weakness, the horse staggers in its walk and tires easily. Profound anemia then develops, marked by a high and variable temperature. In many cases death comes quickly while in others the animal lingers for several weeks. There is no loss of appetite, in fact the animals usually eat voraciously to the time of death.

In a healthy horse the blood corpuscles number about 8,000,000. In the animals now under examination one dropped to 2,000,000, while the other which is under medical treatment, is gradually picking up, though the recovery is very slow.

Reports from Farmers.

In speaking to a reporter for the Telegram, Dr. Bell said,

"Just how great the loss is from this swamp fever cannot be said, for it has only reached such a magnitude as to prove epidemic, and although we have attempted to secure figures of losses from the farmers, the returns have been far from satisfactory, many of the farmers ignoring our questions, but I can say this, that one contractor in two years lost $10,000 in horses from the disease, and many of the farmers along the Stinking river, and some in other places, have been practically ruined by the killing off of their horses. No treatment seems to be of any use at all, and until we can discover a specific, it would seem as if there is small chance of salvation from an excessive loss.

"The disease, too, is spreading, for whereas, a couple of years ago it was practically confined to the district around Portage, it now extends to the foothills, and along the Calgary and Edmonton line."

Dr. Bell is confident that satisfactory results will be obtained from the work he is carrying on, and hopes to be able to find a sure course of treatment. Whether this will be a medicinal or in the nature of a vaccine, he cannot say at present.

Terrible Cost of War.

The advent of peace has set British journalists counting up the losses in the war. From October 11, 1899, to June 1, 1902, in all 311,200 months of war, the ultimate triumph of the British arms has cost 21,579 lives, or nearly seven per cent. of the troops engaged.

Taking the killed and wounded together, the casualties work out at 30,120 men, or nearly 10 per cent. of the total force.

The surrenders of armed men total 9,714, or about three per cent. of the fighting line. Of these, six battalions, on whom fell the ordinary bad luck inseparable from a great campaign, account between them for 3,000 prisoners.

The health of the Imperial army in spite of the severe strain imposed, has been remarkable; the figures of 13,000 deaths from disease spread over an average force of 200,000 men in two and one-half years giving an annual death rate of only 26 per thousand.

Taking a per capita basis we find the war has cost the colonies three lives for every 9,000 of their population, while it has cost the United Kingdom four lives for every 9,000 of its population.

Generals Symons, Wauchope and Woodgate were killed and Generals Lord Methuen (twice), Macdonald, Knox, Wood, Barton, Ian Hamilton (twice), Little, Rundle and Kekewich have been wounded. Lord Methuen was the only general to suffer capture.

Death from accidental causes throughout the campaign number no fewer than 785, of which 223 were cases of drowning. Train accidents account for 141 deaths, lightning for 52, accidental self-shooting for 16, mistakes by sentries for 4, and miscellaneous accidents, chiefly among mounted men for 349. There are, moreover, six reported cases of suicide, one being a lieutenant-colonel, one a major, and four privates. Minor explosions claimed three lives; two men were killed by lions, one by a bull, one by a crocodile, and one is reported shot while attempting to escape from his captors.

Finally, the Victoria Cross has been gained—perhaps a better word than won or earned—by every division of the empire, except Wales and New Zealand; England claiming 29, South Africa 10, Scotland 9, Australia 4, Ireland and Canada two each, and India one.

The Fruit Marks Act.

The following circular dealing with the fruit marks act has been issued by the department of agriculture:

After the parliament of Canada passed the fruits marks act in 1901, the minister of agriculture directed that every opportunity should be afforded the fruit growers and packers of the Dominion to meet its requirements and to fulfill their obligations to the public; and for a year the work of the department in this respect was informational and educational. This year some amendments were made to the act as originally passed, and to-day the act in all its provisions is "as plain as a pike staff," and every clause of it so simple that "the boy who runs may read." No farmer, or fruit grower, or packer who is honest in his endeavors and straightforward in his trading need fear any of its clauses. The act is being enforced, and the inspectors appointed to execute its requirements have been instructed to do their duty. They are servants of the crown; Parliament has definitely pronounced its judgment upon the false and fraudulent packing and marking of fruit consignments; and these men have been selected to carry out the regulations placed on the statute book for the purpose of protecting honest traders from unprincipled dealers, and of preserving inviolate the fair commercial fame of Canada from unscrupulous packers. In other words, the act will ensure to the public of the Dominion and to commission agents and the public generally in Great Britain and elsewhere, that the fruit is correctly marked and honestly packed.

The principle section of the act are: Section 4. Every person who, by himself or through the agency of another person, packs fruit in a closed package, intended for sale, shall cause the package to be marked in a plain and indelible manner, before it is taken from the premises where it is packed;—

(a) With the initials of his christian name, and his full surname and address;

(b) With the name of the variety or varieties; and

(c) With a designation of the grade of fruit, which shall include one of the following six marks, for fruit of the first quality, No. 1, or XXX; for fruit of the second quality, No. 2, or XX; and for fruit of the third quality, No. 3, or X; but the said mark may be accompanied by any other designation of grade, provided that designation is not inconsistent with, or marked more conspicuously than, the one of the said six marks which is used on the said package.

Section 5. No person shall sell, or offer, expose or have in his possession for sale, any fruit packed in a closed package and intended for sale, unless such package is marked as required by the next preceding section.

Section 6. No person shall sell, or offer, expose or have in his possession for sale any fruit packed in a closed package, upon which package is marked any designation which represents such fruit as of No. 1 or XXX, finest, best or extra good quality, unless such fruit consists of well-grown specimens of one variety, sound, of nearly uniform size, of good color for the variety, of normal shape, and not less than ninety per cent., free from scab, worm holes, bruises and other defects, and properly packed.

Section 7. No person shall sell, or offer, expose or have in his possession for sale, any fruit packed in any package in which the faced or shown surface gives a false representation of the contents of such package; and it shall be considered a false representation when more than fifteen per cent. of such fruit is substantially smaller in size than, or inferior in grade to, or different in variety from, the faced or shown surface of such package.

Explanations of its application may be taken thus. On packages packed or marked contrary to the provisions of the act, inspectors may, after notifying the packer by letter or telegram, place the words "falsely packed" or "falsely marked"; and a fine of $40 may be imposed for illegally removing the inspector's brand.

It will be noticed that only "closed packages" need be marked. A closed package is defined to be a box or barrel, the contents of which cannot be seen or inspected when such is closed. Baskets, berry crates or berry boxes even, with veneer covers, are not considered "closed packages," and therefore do not require marking. Cranberries and all wild fruit are not subject to the provisions of the act.

Merchants are held responsible for the fruit they offer for sale (or fruit in their possession for sale), but the original wrongdoer, if found, will in every case be prosecuted.

The penalty for a violation of the law with reference to packing and marking is not less than twenty-five cents and not more than one dollar per package; for removing an inspector's brand, forty dollars; for obstructing an inspector $25 to $500. The fines are divided equally between the informant and the crown.

Inspectors are given large powers under the act to enter premises for the purposes of making an examination and to obtain shipments of fruit for the same purpose. The packer, however, is amply protected by the stipulation that immediate notice must be given by the inspector to the packer when fruit, which at all times is at the risk of the owner, is branded or detained, and the inspector who exceeds his authority is subject to a heavy penalty.

The main points of this act may be summed up as follows:

- (1) The face of all fruit packages must fairly represent the fruit throughout;
 - (2) Closed boxes and barrels must be marked with the name and address of the packer, the variety of the fruit and its grade;
 - (3) It is an offence within the meaning of the act to sell, to offer for sale, or to have in possession for sale, fraudulently packed or marked fruit, even when the buyer and seller are ignorant of the fact, as well as when one or both have knowledge of the fact;
 - (4) The act does not prevent the packing or selling of any grade of fruit that is properly packed and marked;
 - (5) The act does not provide for the inspection of particular lots of fruit at the request of the buyer or seller;
 - (6) Commission merchants, who, after notice, handle fruit put up contrary to the provisions of the act, will be proceeded against;
 - (7) There is no definition of grades marked "No. 2," "XX," "No. 3," or "X."
- Already the beneficial effect of this act is being felt, and when it is fully known that dishonesty in packing and describing Canadian fruit does not exist, an enormous impetus will be given to our fruit industry.

An Open Letter

To the Business Men of Edmonton;

You look to the Bulletin to champion the interests of the town and district at all times and on all occasions; it has never failed you yet. In supporting the general interests it has helped you individually. If the Bulletin ceased publication to-morrow, you would clamor for the establishment of another paper in its place.

A local paper is recognized as a business necessity. The better the paper the more useful it is. A paper is useful in proportion to its business strength, and its business strength depends on the support accorded it by the business people. Its support comes from three sources: Subscriptions, advertisements and commercial printing. Subscriptions depend on the favor with which the paper is regarded by the public at large. The value of the advertisements depends on the number of subscriptions. The Bulletin's subscription list is evidence of the favor in which it is held and its advertising columns show that it is appreciated by the business men as a means of reaching the general public.

But a great deal of the commercial printing of the town which should help to support the local papers, goes to outside printing and lithographing establishments who have no interest in the town and in whom the town has no interest. The merchant who has his printing done at an outside point is crippling his local paper to that extent and thereby hindering the efforts that it should be making for the advancement of the place.

Is outside printing any better or cheaper than that done at home? The Bulletin has a first class printing establishment and challenges comparison in quality of work and prices with outside competitors.

Give us as large an order as you give the Toronto house, wait as long for it, and add the freight (to the cost price and we will surprise you.

But when you come to us with an order for a thousand letter heads to be done to-morrow, you cannot reasonably expect them at the same per thousand rate as you would get on a ten or twenty thousand order for which you would wait a month at least, nor can you reasonably expect as good work as if the order were larger and the time longer.

If the local offices could not do your hurry orders for printing you would howl about their lack of enterprise.

Then if you only give them the work that you can't get done elsewhere you strangle their enterprise and they cannot help either themselves or you.

Don't forget that many of the canvassers for outside printing houses are agents for ordinary commercial articles and carry printing as a side line. When such canvassers quote you specially low figures on printing don't make any mistake you are paying the difference in either the quality or price of the other part of your order.

A word as to lithographed headings which seem to have a considerable run in town just now. No doubt they are handsome. Given a sufficiently large order and long enough time to fill it and they are not overly expensive. But how is it that in the cities where the lithographing is done the very largest and most progressive establishments do not use lithographed heads. Is it because they don't know they can get the work done? Or because they have not been canvassed? It is because, although they are handsome they are not business-like. The advantage of the lithograph is in its continued use without variation. This indicates stagnation while the desire of every business man is that the headings on his business paper shall indicate progress, to which the moveable types are adapted.

It is worth something to the customer to be able to select his own goods. Goods which can be bought over the counter are worth more than the same quality ordered by mail. Because in the one instance the purchaser knows just what he is getting, while there is always a possibility that there may be a misunderstanding about a mail order. So in printing. It is worth something to the customer to be able to see that his work is done just as he wants it, and to be able to turn it back on the printers hands if it is not. With this allowance, the Bulletin is prepared to compete for all ordinary commercial work in style and price, provided the orders are given on equal terms.

Orders solicited,
Prompt attention.
Prices right.

THE STRATHCONA FAIR.

Strathcona annual fair was held on Friday and Saturday. The first day was devoted to athletic sports the principle features of the show having been reserved for Saturday, Coronation Day. The weather on Friday, though not too bad in the morning, was boisterous and stormy in the afternoon with repeated heavy showers sufficient to keep all except the most venturesome at home. The attendance was therefore limited.

The sports were hurried through and hardly had the last event been won when a heavy shower commenced, dispersing the crowd as by magic.

Most of the events were carried off by a young local athlete, who appeared to have nearly his own way.

The following is a list of events with the names of the successful:

100 yards—Fred Marks, 1st; Robert Townsend, 2nd.

220 yards—Fred Marks, 1st; Louis Dumont, 2nd.

440 yards—Louis Dumont, 1st; Fred Marks, 2nd.

Standing broad jump—Fred Marks, 1st, 9 feet 3 in.; R. Townsend, 2nd, 8 feet 2 1/2 in.

Running broad jump—Fred Marks, 16 feet 7 in.; D. Durrand, 14 feet 10 3/4 inches.

Running hop, step and jump—Fred Marks, 38 feet 4 in.; Albert Kent, 33 ft. 10 1/2 inches.

Running high jump—Fred Marks, 5 feet 1 in.; Albert Kent, 4 feet, 11 in.

In the hall the judges of the various sections were engaged discussing the merits of the exhibits. On application the press was kindly afforded a private view.

The display of grains in the straw of this season's growth and the collection of vegetables was very fine and capable of defending the reputation of Alberta.

Of the 13 exhibits of oats, all over 5 feet high, anyone might have taken a prize. Ball wheat of both hard and soft varieties demonstrated that this can be grown here with success. Spring wheat, breast high just on the turn, gave good evidence of what this crop will be with about a couple of weeks more of good weather. Two row barley ready to cut and a fine sample of Egyptian barley stood side by side. Rye over 6 feet in the straw was several times repeated.

Brome grass and timothy, over 5 feet in length showed clearly that when the country is thickly settled and native hay is not procurable, that grasses can be cultivated with success. Peavine 6 feet high and wild grasses of all varieties upheld the honor of the district.

The vegetables were exceptionally fine. Potatoes, onions, beet, cauliflower, cabbages and eggplants would have made a good showing at an eastern fair. There was celery a foot long, well blanched, and rhubarb from 4 to 5 inches around. Pickling onions, beans every other variety of garden stuff, all grown to perfection.

The housewife's display of preserves was varied and of a high quality.

Honey in the comb, as well as clarified and exhibits of bees was shown that the bees had withstood the winter.

There was a large collection of fancy work from the most useful to the most delicate production in ladies' work.

The artist display was somewhat limited though there was a fine collection of photographs (professional).

Saturday was all that could be desired. A fine day and a large gathering contributed all that was necessary to a successful day.

The decorations along the streets and the two handsome arches across Whyte avenue, erected by the loyal citizens in honor of the coronation of King Edward the Seventh, presented a very handsome appearance.

The prizes for the horse races were carried off as follows:

1-4 mile open—Buntly Hen, 1st; Wild Jim, 2nd. Time 24 seconds.

2-40 trot—Mambrino Gift, 1st; Ollie M, 2nd; Dan, 3rd. Time 2:47.

Half mile run—Sheering, 1st; Wild Jim, 2nd. Time 54 sec.

Free-for-all, trot or pace—Woodlawn 1st; Mambrino Gift, 2nd. Time 2:40.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.
Berliner (talking machine) gramophone, in first class order, with new "Turret" concert sound box and three dozen records, very latest. Will sell cheap or exchange for horse. Address (Gramophone) Bulletin office.

LOCAL AUTHORITY WANTED.

As the harvest approaches the question of threshing claims attention. Already contracts for threshing are being made. In this district threshing is done entirely by heavy steam machines, frequently tractions. This has introduced a new feature in road making, or rather bridge making. All bridges must be strong enough to carry a traction engine or they do not serve their purpose. Of course all bridges built by the Northwest government are planned with that in view. But it is just as necessary that small bridges and culverts constructed by the statute labor districts shall be strong enough for that purpose. There is too much money locked up in a modern threshing outfit to allow the owner to take any chances on an accident in crossing, a badly built culvert or small bridge. This season the local government is co-operating with the statute labor districts by furnishing lumber for culverts and small bridges, the work to be done by the district. But the busy season is commencing and from now on there will be such a rush of farm work that little statute labor will be done. From one cause or another many of the culverts remain incomplete and threshers are unable to make contracts as they are offered for that reason. One great cause of delay in getting the culverts fixed is said to be the necessity of referring all matters to Regina. By the time the authority is received the labor is frequently not available. The suggestion is made that the district engineer be empowered to make these matters without recourse to Regina so that there will not be the present difficulty of meeting the labor when ready.

BASEBALL.

The Edmonton baseball team journeyed to Ponoka on Saturday to play them a friendly game. The game was called at 1:30 p. m. Ponoka having the choice took the field with Tupie in the box. The fire works started right here and by the time the third innings was completed Mr. Tupie, or what was left of him, was taken out of the box for a rest as 12 runs had been scored off him. Pitcher number two, was then substituted and fared little better than the first. All the members of the Edmonton team played ball from the time the umpire called play ball. Ponoka, although they played a good game on the 3rd of July, did not seem to have any luck as all their hits were driven right at our players who accepted everything that came their way. Dr. Grunman, the umpire, gave entire satisfaction, several of his decisions being applauded.

As for Ponoka, the town turned out in mass and treated the boys royally. The boys were quartered at the Royal Hotel, where Mr. Lavioie spared no pains to make everybody have a good time. Edmonton played battery; F. Ball, pitcher; W. Ball, catcher; 1st base, Samis; 2nd base, Hamilton; short stop, Wm. Ball; 3rd base, W. Inglis; left field, Dr. Till; centre field, Bowers; right field, Gilmour.

Edmonton team will visit Fort Saskatchewan on Thursday to compete for the Shere cup.

LOCAL.

—Fort Saskatchewan fair Wednesday and Thursday.

—Miss Phillips, who has been holidaying at "Ardacraue," the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. McFarlan, has returned to town.

—Sunday's train came through from Calgary, instead of connecting at Red Deer as before.

—Dr. Patterson, Dominion health officer, returned from a visit to Vegreville in the Vermilion district on Sunday. He reports several cases of small pox of a mild type in that district. Every means has been taken to secure the isolation of the cases, but before Dr. Patterson went out some of the Patients had disregarded the quarantine with the result that the disease was spread unnecessarily.

—W. Rogers, government immigration agent in South Dakota, arrived on Saturday night's train with a party of land seekers from that state numbering fifteen in all. A number of them leave for the Vermilion today. During the present season Mr. Rogers has brought 7 special trains comprising 168 cars of immigrants effects from South Dakota into the Northwest, chiefly to Alberta, this season. One train had 60 cars of effects, four sleepers and 225 passengers. The prospects are that as many more will come before the close of the season.

LACROSSE.

The Edmonton team were victors in the match played at Leduc on Saturday.

The teams were made up as follows:
Leduc: E. Sibbald, point; Johnston, 1st defence; G. Hardy, 2nd defence; G. Hardy, 3rd defence; Featherstone, 4th defence; Kirkpatrick, 5th defence; James, 6th defence; Elliott, 7th defence; Sheppard, 8th defence; Anderson, 9th defence; R. Hardy, 10th defence; Alton, 11th defence; The record stood 3 to 1 at end of first half and 5-2 final.

ESCAPES DROWNING AT BANFF.

"Crag and Canyon," publishes an account of good service rendered by Sergeant Aston, N. W. M. P., to a visitor at that far famed resort.

The sergeant, who stayed off at Banff on his return from the coast, was one day near the basin where parties were bathing, he was called to rescue a drowning man who had got beyond his depth. Sergt. Aston plunged in without even removing his hat. First pulling out a lady who had already started to help the drowning man, he then dove and was immediately grasped by the drowning clutch of the unfortunate who was with difficulty brought to the surface and taken ashore. Both fortunately soon recovered from an unpleasant experience and not much the worse.

The Alberta Land Company

Has 20,000 acres of as fine land as can be selected in Beaver Lake, Vermilion and Birch Lake country.

These lands are adapted to both raising grain and stock. There are three lines of proposed Railroads running through this part of the country. These lands can never be bought cheaper than now. We are selling every day and they are not going to last long. Improve the opportunity and place your money where you are sure of securing a good profit by the investment.

Many invest in Mining, some in Oil, some in Bonds; only a few reach the goal; the rest find their hard earned money gone with only a piece of fine paper to tell the story. Why not buy a piece of land one-half mile [] to look at and see it increase from year to year in value until it makes you and yours a nice little fortune? It will surely come. It is only a question of time.

We solicit your trade. Call or write and get maps and information of these cheap lands.
